CLÉMENT JANEQUIN

Le Chant des Oyseaulx, Chansons

Ensemble Clément Janequin, Dominique Visse

0h45 1 CD HMG501099 Juni 2013

'In the 16th century birdsong certainly constituted an essential aspect of that broad stream of natural imitations which runs through the musical aesthetics of the Humanist Age: Human or Artificial Music hearkened to Natural Music in an effort to copy it and thereby to raise itself to the summits of Parnassus. [. . .] Janequin never lost his taste for bird-song, from the first attempts of 1520 down to the last chansons of the 1550s. It is at the very core of his creative activity, at the heart of that poetic-musical game, the polyphonic chanson' (J.-P. Ouvrard). This recording has never left the harmonia mundi catalogue in nearly thirty years, and is still regarded as a benchmark! This title was released for the first time in 1985.
